

Thursday, April 23, 2009

K9-101 dog training:

My experience with Victor's dog training classes was life changing. I've always considered myself, as many people consider themselves, a dog lover. I thought this naturally gave me the ability to properly care for and train my dog. Over the course of my classes with Victor, I learned that genuinely caring for and training this animal demands much, much more. His explanation of the rationale behind his techniques provided a welcomed education for me on how dogs think and what they truly need from their caregivers. I believe Victor has a wealth of knowledge and the skill to share it effectively with people to help us understand how different dogs are from human beings, and, therefore, how different their behaviors and needs are. This understanding is critical for effective dog training.

I found Victor's techniques to be incredibly effective, demonstrating to me that he knows how to communicate with dogs in a way they understand. His love of, devotion to and respect for dogs is obvious, and I believe that he can help anyone achieve amazing results with their dog training. He is upfront in asking for one thing from his students: commitment. If you're serious about wanting the very best for and from your dog, Victor is the man to see.

Truly,

Peggy R.